Diving and Boxing Bouts To Be Staged in Jersey

By W. O. McGeehan

As an added feature to the boxing bouts which he will stage at the University and City of New rena A. C. in Jersey City Monday night Dave Driscoll announces that will be enlivened with a diving contest between Adonis Reich and Tumble Tom Cowler, the Cumberland Man Mountain. Both save fallen upon their chins early and more often than the average run

It is proposed that the first one to kiss the canvas shall be declared This seems a bit unfair to Cowler, who is a trifle taller who consequently has a longer distance to flop. Howfigured that the attraction of gravity acts to a er, and that while the Man Mountain has to flop three shells.

After the channel is deepened it will be widened for a distance of 8,000 feet, beginning at Edgewood Avenue, just north of the Yale Bowl, continuing the length of the river to Long Island Sound. This course will be a trifle longer than the Henley distance, which has been adopted by dozens of American colleges as a standard. Most of the early season races are now rowed over a course of that distance with the course of the distance.

Most of the early season races are now rowed over a course of that distance, either on New Haven harbor, the Schuylkill or the Housatonic River above the city of Derby.

The survey of the river as the scene of Yale's preliminary races and possibly for all the rowing events on the Eli schedule was made by the corporation of the university, which is dissatisfied with the present arrangement which compels the oarsmen to spend an entire afternoon for their daily practice during the spring.

Leonard will put in most of his training time at Lakewood. He had enough to carry him over the holidays in two fights in the South.

Dumb Dan Morgan has recovered his power of speech long enough to utter a complaint as to the high cost of everything and the difficulty of getting matches for his three idle boxers, Battling Levinsky, Jack Britton and Eddie Fitzsimmons. Desperate Dan says that any one of the will give away anything from ten to twenty pounds to get a match, and they must have matches soon or there will be no turkey in the Maison in Market of the season.

KICKING twenty-five consecutive goals from touchdown was the extraordinary achievement accomplished by Nelson Galbraith, the De Witt Clinton fullback, during the last season. He crashed over opponents' lines for eleven touchdowns, thus compiling an aggregate of 91 points, which is the highest recorded by any boy in this city. He expects to matriculate at Columbia next year.
